Adoption Criteria

1. In order to qualify for adopting a horse, you should:
 - a. Already own a horse, preferably at least for five years.
 - b. Maintain the horse(s) on your own property where you reside.
 - c. You must be 18 years of age or older.
2. A barn or lean-to, safe and proper fencing (board or heave gauge wire mesh is appropriate-not barbed wire) and adequate water/feed supply including a way to keep water from freezing in the winter are required.
3. The adoptive owner(s) must provide Dreamchaser PMU Rescue & Rehabilitation (DPMU) with contact information for their veterinarian, farrier and the person who will care for the animals when the owner is away.
4. Periodic checks may be made of adopted animal(s) by a DPMU representative for the lifetime of the horse. The adoptive owner agrees to submit a DPMU Adoption Update Form on the animal(s) each year on or before the date of adoption until DPMU deems this is no longer necessary.
5. All animal(s) will go to the best/most appropriate home that meets or exceeds the minimum adoption fee for that particular animal. This fee aids in recovering a portion of their cost of care while at Dreamchaser.
6. Any animal adopted from DPMU may not be moved to a new location or leased or loaned to another person without prior approval from DPMU.
7. DPMU reserves the right of first refusal. If for any reason the adoptive owner is unable or unwilling to maintain the animal properly DPMU reserves the right to relinquish the animal(s) at our discretion.
8. DPMU cannot guarantee any animal(s) as to its disposition or training. Animals which come into our custody are usually young and untrained. Due to their usually debilitated condition, temperament generally changes with proper care. DPMU will include with each adoption a complete file on the animal(s), which will explain how the animal came to be on the farm, what veterinary care it received while it was here and what the staff has personally noticed about the animal's disposition and training.

Because certain homes that do not meet our preliminary criteria may qualify to adopt certain animals, please contact the office if you have any question about your eligibility.
